

Climbing out of poverty

India has made dramatic improvements, but how far left to go?

In nearly every state, rural Indians are more likely to be in extreme poverty than their urban neighbours.

Poverty rates have been steadily dropping, but over 95% of the population is still below the equivalent of $5 US per day.

